

About Sandy Spadaro:

A graduate of the Ohio State University with a 15 year working background in sales, marketing and business management, Sandy Spadaro continues the drive toward utilizing skills in freelance writing and public speaking for multiple professional organizations through her firm, SS Marketing Solutions. Blessed with recent recognition, Spadaro has been named one of South Jersey's Top Business Women, to be showcased in the Fall 2006 issue of South Jersey Magazine.

Installed as the National Association of Women Business Owners (NAWBO) -South Jersey's VP of Programs in June of 2006, Spadaro plans to fill the upcoming year's calendar with value-packed education & networking functions intended to help members grow both personally & professionally. Given the importance she places on women's issues, it is of no surprise that she is active within various additional associations, including the National Association of Female Executives (NAFE) and the Professional Woman Network (PWN).

Spadaro's published works have reached reader audiences through local and national publications such as Executive Female Magazine, Working Mother Magazine, Origin Magazine, Broker Agent Magazine and the Prospecting & Marketing Institute Series.

Though as a published author, public speaker and national association award winner, she's committed to using her enthusiasm to provide her clients with profit through PR, she openly admits that her greatest challenge & accomplishment thus far has been that of raising her joyful and spirited 10-year old boy.
